

US Army Corps of Engineers®
Baltimore District

Major John M. Raso Deputy District Engineer for Support Operations

Major John M. Raso became the Deputy District Engineer for Support Operations in November 2008. His previous assignment was with the Baltimore District as the Deputy Resident Engineer at the D.C. Metro Office located at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center. MAJ Raso graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1999.

His developmental assignments include: Platoon Leader time in Korea with the "Broken Heart" 44th Engineer Battalion at Camp Howze, South Korea supporting the 4/7 Cavalry Regiment, a tour as Company Executive Officer and Battalion Operations Officer in the 2nd Battalion, 60th Infantry Regiment at Fort Jackson, S.C. and Assistant Battalion Operations Officer with the Special Troops Battalion at Fort Richardson, Alaska. While in Alaska, MAJ Raso deployed to Iraq and assumed command of Charlie Company, 84th Engineers. Following command, MAJ Raso returned to school earning a graduate degree.

MAJ Raso earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Systems Engineering from the United States Military Academy at West Point, a Masters in Human Resources and Management from Websters University and a Masters in Civil Engineering from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville.

His military education includes the Engineer Officer Basic Course, the Aviation Captains Career Course, and the Northern Warfare Course. Among his military decorations are the Bronze Star, Army Commendation Medal (2 OLC), Army Achievement Medal, Meritorious Unit Commendation, and Parachutist Badge.